Ambition Belonging Courage

Earth day...

We have spent this week thinking about how we can look after our world. We have made our own pledges explaining how we can make our planet an even better place. We have designed and made our own earth and written about it describing what it has on it and what makes it special to us. We have thoroughly enjoyed reading some poetry about nature and we have been inspired to have a go at creating our own poems about the wonderful world we live in!

In maths this week...

We have been finding ways to help count larger amounts of objects; we have been lining things up and counting clearly. We had to help the number puppets because they kept going to fast and counting them wrong! We have been counting to 20 making sure we are pronouncing the teen numbers correctly. Once we were confident with our counting, we looked at large amounts of dots to see how we could use our subitising skills to count larger amounts too. Our final challenge was to find out how we can count dots which can't be moved!

Other areas of learning...

This week, the children have loved all the activities we have done linked to Earth day. We have been discussing what we love about our world and how we can take care of it. Since coming back to school, our Early Years garden has bloomed so we have been looking at and talking about the changes that are happening around us. This has led us into thinking about animals and how they change to live in different places on earth.

How to help at home...

You could have a look around your garden or in your local area to see what changes you have noticed, have new flowers bloomed or has a plant changed? How could you save energy at home?
